THE PASTORALS ON SUNDAY

A week-by-week resource from the Pastoral Letters of the Bishops' of Rome, of the Second Vatican Council, and of the Bishops' Conference of the United States.

THIRTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

2 Kings 4:8-11, 14-16 Elisha promises a son.
Romans 6:3-4, 8-11 You are dead to sin but alive for God in Christ Jesus.
Matthew 10:37-42 The one who welcomes you welcomes me.

Central to continuing the work of Christ is the capacity to see Christ in each person one encounters.

As disciples of Christ we must constantly ask ourselves how deeply the biblical and ethical vision of justice and love permeates our thinking. How thoroughly does it influence our way of life? We may hide behind the complexity of the issues or dismiss the significance of our personal contribution; in fact, each one makes economic decisions. Some, by reason of their work or their position in society, have a vocation to be involved in a more decisive way in those decisions that affect the economic well-being of others. They must be encouraged and sustained by all in their search for greater justice.

DIOCESAN PASTORAL COUNCIL PARISH INPUT

The Helena Diocese thanks all the parishes, including Risen Christ, who have returned the results of their Parish Input Process to the Pastoral Planning Office. The Diocesan Pastoral Council met May 20-21 to review the planning recommendations that came from all our parishes.

Following is the response for Question 2 from our Parish.

What are the needs of our parish as we look to the future?

- Kneelers in either a section of the church or the entire area.
- Upgrade and expand the kitchen area and purchase a new stove.
- Obtain new office printer/copy machine.
- Resurface and stripe church parking lot.
- Street church signage should be updated and electrified.
- Power assisted openers for the heavy bathroom doors.
- Storage building or expansion of church for additional storage to include separate janitorial area and larger common area.

Look for the response to Question 3 in next week's bulletin.

There will be a follow-up process coming to the parishes in the fall to help prioritize the initiatives that were heard around the diocese to provide direction for the Council as they move closer to outlining a Pastoral Plan to guide the next five years. There will be posters; announcements and a script for the process provided in late summer to facilitate this next portion of the Parish Input Process.

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT Twelfth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus minces no words with his disciples: If we acknowledge Jesus publicly, Jesus will remember us before God, our Father. If we deny Jesus, he will forget us. It is very rare that a Christian will denounce Jesus publicly. But we can deny Jesus in more subtle ways. There are many people who conveniently forget all about Jesus Christ and the work of his Kingdom in their daily lives, in moments of weakness, spiritual immaturity or when times get tough. Good stewards strengthen their confession of Christ by praying and attending Mass regularly.

PETER'S PENCE COLLECTION

Today we have a collection for Peter's Pence, a worldwide collection that supports the charitable works of Pope Francis. Funds from this collection help victims of war, oppression, and natural disasters. Take this opportunity to join with Pope Francis and be a witness of charity to our suffering brothers and sisters. Please be generous today. For more information, visit www.usccb.org/peters-pence.

A gospel reflection for the home

June 25, 2017 – 12th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Matthew 10:26-33

Most of the gospels we hear each Sunday give us little cause for questioning. They are straight-forward. We listen to (or read) their words and we nod our heads in agreement. "Yes, I can understand this or that point. It makes sense. I agree."

But sometimes, like in today's gospel, we might think that the gospel is a bit confusing. Jesus is telling us that loving our parents or our children seems not that important. Maybe even harmful. Pope Francis has written that family is very important. Maybe he's not familiar with this gospel.

Of course, he knows it well, but he would also ask that we carefully reflect on what it is saying so that we don't misunderstand it. Jesus is talking about priorities. It's like he is making a list of what should be first in importance, and then second, and so forth.

Although it's not in this Sunday's readings, we might recall what Jesus taught about the two great commandments. Number one commandment was that we should love God above all else. Number two was that we should love our neighbors as we love ourselves. Jesus found both these commandments in his Jewish Scriptures, in what we call the Old Testament.

Then he went on to explain that these two commandments are closely connected. When he gave his last set of instructions at the Last Supper, he said that the two commandments are really one large commandment. He joined them together when he said, "Love one another as I have loved you."

In practical everyday life, we love God in part by loving each other. Parents love their children and children love their parents. And family love can spread out into the whole world. But it all starts with God lovingly creating each of us. God is the first to love us. Without God loving us, we simply would not even be. Without God's love for you, you wouldn't be reading these words because there would be no "you."

So, love God with all your heart and then love others (including yourself). St. Ignatius Loyola composed a set of meditations for people seriously interested in developing their spiritual lives. The first meditation focuses on God's love as the origin of all creation, ourselves included. That was to be the foundational belief for all who seek to better know God and God's ways with us. Family plays a decisive role in God's plan. But there's something deeper than family and more important than us. That's God's love, which created us.
