PRAYER AS OUR NATION REPLACES A SUPREME COURT JUSTICE

God our Father, your Son Jesus spoke to us a message
Of peace and taught us to live as brothers and sisters.

His message took form in the vision of our
Founding Fathers, as they fashioned a nation where all people might live as one.

This message lives on in our midst as a task for us today and a promise for tomorrow

We thank you, Father, for your blessings in the past,
And for all that, with your help, we must yet achieve.

Bless our nation as we engage in this process of transition on the Supreme Court.

Give wisdom, insight and courage to our President.

Bless also the United States Senators, that they may carry out their duty
To conduct a fair confirmation process based on the qualifications of the nominee.

Bless the nominee whom the President has chosen for this high responsibility.

And bless our fellow citizens, that they may understand the proper role of the courts
And let their voices be heard in defense of the principles our Founding Fathers invoked.

Bring all of us to the day when our laws and our courts
Protect the rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness,
And recognize that those rights are not given to us by kings or courts,
But only by you, the Lord of every nation

We pray through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Fr. Frank Pavone, National Director, Priests for Life

THE PASTORALS ON SUNDAY

NINETEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

1 Kings 19:4-8

Strengthened by that food, Elijah walked to God's mountain.

Ephesians 4:30-5:2

He gave himself for us as a gift of pleasing fragrance.

John 6:41-51

The bread I give is my flesh, for the life of the world.

Jesus became bread for the life of the world. Today, quite literally, the life of the world depends on our willingness to accept the sacrifices necessary to effect peace and alleviate suffering.

To restructure the international order along lines of greater equity and participation and apply the preferential option for the poor to international economic activity will require sacrifices of at least the scope of those we have made over the years in building our own nation. We need to call again upon the qualities of leadership and vision that have marked our history when crucial choices were demanded. As Pope John Paul II said during his 1979 visit to the United States: "America, which in the past decades has demonstrated goodness and generosity in providing food for the hungry of the world, will, I am sure, be able to match this generosity with an equally convincing contribution to the establishing of a world order that will create the necessary economic and trade conditions for a more just relationship between all the nations of the world."

Lectio: Peter

Session 6: In the Shadow of the Galilean

The King, the Kingdom, and the Keys

Did Jesus really entrust His authority to a fisherman from Galilee? In this episode of his enlightening and engaging study on Saint Peter, Dr. Tim Gray unpacks Scripture to reveal Peter's critical role as a bridge between our King, Jesus Christ, and His Kingdom, the Church.

Watch on formed.org

"I found myself enthralled in this particular lecture. I love the entire study and am learning a great deal . . . but this was by far my favorite so far."

August 5, 2018 – 18th Sunday in Ordinary Time
John 6:24-35

People think a lot about food these day. Maybe now more than ever. And over time, our personal food preferences might change. When I was a kid, if something was labelled “organic,” you likely wouldn’t eat it – or even touch it! Anything called a health food might have required a doctor’s prescription. And items like “ancient organic Ghee” or “veggie samosas” would not likely find their way into mom’s grocery basket. Although they are all available today at a Whole Foods store.

Seriously, today’s interest in food is driven by increased awareness that being healthy includes eating the right food, food that contains only what helps our bodies to be healthy. Artificial additives are not recommended. We want our food to be “real.”

In Jesus’ time, the number of available foods was quite limited. Delicacies would likely include fresh fish, poultry and a very limited amount of meat. The staple food would be grain, especially made into bread. Without bread people would starve.

We get a hint of the importance of bread in a recent Sunday gospel. Perhaps to the largest crowd Jesus ever addressed, bread and fish are multiplied by Jesus and served to satisfy the hunger of those gathered on the hillside to hear his words. When you think of it, bread is not only important for life to survive, but it can also symbolize the most important gift that God gives us, God’s own self, especially in the Eucharist.

What does the Eucharist mean to you? Do you think of it as a food directly created by God? (Because it is!) As Catholics, we believe that the bread “made with human hands” is changed during the Mass into the risen body of Jesus Christ. As we come forward, we take the body of Christ into ourselves, as Christ takes us into himself.

We are then part of the greatest miracle of all when a part of God’s creation (you and me) becomes part of Christ’s body. We receive the only food that will never spoil, the only nourishment that allows us to live not just on the day we receive it, but forever. The Eucharist bread and wine are created by God to become part of us. It is food for our life’s journey, which as today’s gospel says, “gives life to the world.” Not just human life, but divine life. We become what we eat. When we eat of the Body of Christ, we become like Christ, one of the most important truths of our faith.
