MARRIAGE MATTERS

Keep the Main Thing the Main Thing

Have you ever been distracted? At best, distraction can keep us from accomplishing a task. At worst, distraction causes sin or harm. In any case, we were not created for distraction but for mission!

Jesus reminds us this weekend to keep focused on our main mission. For married couples, our main mission is the calling or vocation we received from God to Matrimony.

When we stay focused, we maximize happiness in this life and the next.

Try the following:

- Attend a yearly marriage retreat.
- Pray daily for and with your spouse.
- Cultivate a mission statement for your marriage.
- Serve the Church together as spouses.

Prioritize your mission at the next Date Night event, July 12.

PETER'S PENCE COLLECTION

Today is the Peter's Pence Collection, a worldwide collection that supports the charitable works of Pope Francis. Funds from this collection help victims of war, oppression, and natural disasters. For more information, visit www.usccb.org/peters-pence.

OUR GIFT TO GOD ~

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT

Today’s Gospel reveals to us the beginning of Jesus’ journey to Jerusalem. We will journey with Jesus for many Sundays to come, and along the way he will teach us about the demands of discipleship. His instructions may seem harsh and unreasonable to our ears. His response to legitimate requests to postpone the journey reminds us that there are always justifiable excuses to defer the journey or put off the responsibilities of discipleship. Other important matters compete for our attention. Some of us must make heart-wrenching choices, but there is urgency about Jesus’ mission to bring forth God’s kingdom. His demand is that we proclaim the Kingdom of God now. Is this our first priority, or do we have other priorities?

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Isaiah 66:10-14      In Jerusalem you shall find your comfort.
Galatians 6:14-18      Peace and mercy on all who follow the rule of life.
Luke 10:1-12, 7-20      Master, even the demons are subject to us in your name.

We are called to cast out the demons of this world in Jesus' name. The demons of poverty, hunger, ignorance and tyranny are subject to us as believers who share in the prophetic mission of Christ in our local community and our world community.

When we accept violence in any form as commonplace, our sensitivities become dulled. When we accept violence, war itself can be taken for granted. Violence has many faces: oppression of the poor, deprivation of basic human rights, economic exploitation, sexual exploitation and pornography, neglect or abuse of the aged and the helpless and innumerable other acts of inhumanity. Abortion in particular blunts a sense of the sacredness of human life. In a society where the innocent unborn are killed wantonly, how can we expect people to feel righteous revulsion at the act or threat of killing noncombatants in war?

Luke 9:51-72

I think that there's a bit of a procrastinator in all of us. It's certainly there in our children. I make a simple request of them like clean the garage, pick up the mess in the yard, straighten your room, set the table or do the dishes and I expect immediate action. In the history of our family immediate response to my requests happened maybe twice – or even less. Of course, when I look in the mirror, I see the face of a convicted procrastinator. My annual, monthly, weekly or daily "to do list" rarely gets immediate attention, if at all. Important matters almost always intervene, easily becoming excellent excuses for me to delay what I was supposed to do. Sound familiar?

In today's gospel Jesus calls his disciples to follow him – right away. Let's get going, he says. Don't make excuses. The Kingdom of God is now in play. The game is on. Its demands are there right now. So, let's get going. Don't waste the precious time being given right now. Opportunity knocks.

All the gospels begin with a declaration that, with the coming of the Christ, the Kingdom of God is at hand. Not only has the long-awaited messiah come, he also began acting in accord with its demands. He went about doing good. He healed the sick and brought comfort to the afflicted. Once he rose from the dead and ascended into heaven, he passed on the task of building God's Kingdom to his followers. It was now their turn to imitate his acts of love and service, especially toward those in most need. Their God-given job was not to begin when they felt like it or were in the right mood. It was to begin immediately!

One of the creative acts of Jesus was to extinguish the separation between the profane and the sacred, what's thought of as religious and what isn't. All times and places were now potentially sacred. The Kingdom is now being co-created by God's Spirit and us, here and now. The Kingdom of God is at hand!

When Jesus was asked to point to a Kingdom gesture, he said that whenever one gave a cup of water to a thirsty child, the Kingdom of God was created. In other words, all gestures of assistance, of doing a good deed, of offering a supportive word, the Kingdom is being created "on earth as it is in heaven." Each day you and I are invited to acts of discipleship. We are being given an invitation to follow the Lord throughout the day. Are we aware of such invitations? Are we willing to go that extra mile with someone needing a kind word or helping hand? The invitation of Jesus to follow him might come to you in the next minute.
