ST. MARIA GORETTI, FEAST DAY JULY 6TH

Saint Maria Goretti is known for her intercession for mercy, forgiveness, love, purity and chastity. She is our patron saint of the youth and rape victims. She was born to a poor Italian family and at the age of twelve was attacked by her teenage neighbor. He tried to rape her and when unsuccessful, he stabbed her fourteen times and killed her.

She forgave him on her deathbed and returned to him in a vision, upon which he converted to the Faith.

Isaiah 55:10-11 -- Romans 8:18-23 -- Matthew 13:1-23

PRACTICE OF HOPE

St. Paul uses nature metaphors, describing the longing of creation for the fulfillment of God's promise, even as the "firstfruits of the Spirit" are evident in the lives of the children of God. When we are open to God's Word, signs of the Kingdom of God are observed in us and point to its promised fulfillment.

In whom do you see evidence of "seed that has fallen on rich soil"? Offer words of encouragement or write a note of thanks to this person.

Learn more about opportunities to support sustainable agriculture and the dignity of work at <http://ethicaltrade.crs.org/why-shop-ethically/faith-connection/>.

Spend time outdoors this week, observing signs of the fruitfulness of nature. Pray in thanksgiving for the gifts of God's creation.

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT

Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time Weekend of July 4/5, 2020

One of the most well known and beloved passages in scripture is the gentle invitation of our Lord in today's Gospel reading: "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest." When we need physical rest, we sleep or take a nap. When we need emotional rest, we take a break, go for a walk, or when the opportunity presents itself, take a few days off. But how do we find spiritual rest? How do we discover Christ's peace as we grapple with this time of uncertainty and its complex issues deep in our hearts? Good stewards find their rest in the Lord. Reflect this week on what you do to welcome the peace of Christ into your heart.

RESOURCES FOR AGING ADULTS

Based on conversations with community leaders across the US, many aging adults are unaware of the available care options and programs that can help maintain their independence and quality of life. So a free resource was created that provides information on topics like financial support and care options that are available in Kalispell. What we are most excited about is our comprehensive database of senior living communities which also includes thoughtful and honest reviews from residents in your community.

You can read more about our work here, or call Colleen Murray, (800) 324-9349, Community Outreach and Senior Advocate.

A gospel meditation for your home
July 5, 2020 – Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time
Matthew 11:25-30

I really needed to hear the words from this Sunday's gospel. I felt they were written just for me. Maybe you will think the same. Here are those words of Jesus: "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."

These are not only timely words that connect with what we learn from the daily news, but even more to our personal lives. It's fairly easy these days to list burdensome items from the world around us. Like the pandemic that we are now suffering through, which leaves us with so much uncertainty and worries about what's ahead. We cannot forget the suffering of families around the globe. Or the fears faced by minorities, not only in the United States, but in so many countries. There are the challenges related to improving police protection, which have no easy answers. And we ought not ignore increasing climate change and global warming that affect us in many ways.

If that's not enough, we can add our personal list of burdens. They may be related to health issues or financial difficulties. Or personal challenges facing us that we have difficulty even thinking about. There are the inevitable crises being faced by members of our own family or close friends. All these burdens follow us as we make our rounds each day. And if we awaken in the middle of the night, they are suddenly right there with us. So many of us in these days are "burdened."

To all this Jesus comes to us with an offer. The gift of interior peace. The gift of assistance in carrying our burdens. The gift that not only are we not alone in our efforts to survive, but that God wants to help lift the load from our backs. And more importantly, from our tendency to think we are all alone in our struggles. God desires us to have peace in our lives and hearts. But God will not force this matter. We have to honestly and sincerely make that request of Jesus: "Come to me." I need your help.

Then we can believe that the burdens are not just ours, but also those of God. God cares for each of us, including the troubles we face. God supports each step we take, continuously helping us to move through each moment of our lives. But again, if we ignore God's presence with us in all this, we are left to face life all alone. And speaking personally, this can be overwhelming.

Again, God wants us to enjoy the rest that is promised us eternally, but also restfulness right now. Can we find the strength to ask for and allow God to help us?
