PRACTICE OF FAITH

Our family and friends who live the most ordinary lives may be models of the Christ-centered life. The Jews murmured about Jesus, who grew up in their community, disbelieving that he could be the “living bread.” The Second Vatican Council’s Dogmatic Constitution on the Church points out in paragraph 10 that, as baptized persons, we have the responsibility to witness Christ to the world through our faith-filled actions and prayer. In essence, we need to be living bread for this troubled world.

- Try praying through the news as you watch and listen to accounts of suffering.
- Become more aware of brothers and sisters in every country who struggle for basic necessities. Encourage family members to pray so that your prayers of hope help form the people you love.
- Bake a dessert or cook a meal for someone in your neighborhood who may be suffering, and prayerfully become “living bread” for others.

JOURNEY WITH THE POPE

“How many times this happens in the Church: we are busy, we run around, we think that everything depends on us and, in the end, we risk neglecting Jesus and we always make ourselves the center... For it is not enough to “unplug” ourselves, we need to truly rest. And how do we do this? To do so, we must return to the heart of things: to stop, to remain in silence, to pray so as not to go from the frenzy of work to the frenzy of times of relaxation.”

Pope Francis

WHAT IS CATECHISM?

The term catechism refers to any manual used to instruct others in faith. When it is used in the specific context of the Catholic Church, it means, simply, the instruction manual for followers of the Catholic faith. The Catechism refers to the specific book used by Catholics that contains all the teachings of the Catholic faith. It is about the most basic and meaningful teachings of the Catholic faith. It's about faith, hope, love, and the teachings that bring these things to life in the world around you.

It's about opening up the Christian faith in Catholicism in a way that invites all people to explore more deeply some of life's most basic questions.

If you want to know what it means to be a Catholic and how to live a Catholic life, then the Catechism of the Catholic Church is the book for you.

A PRAYER FOR RAIN & FIREFIGHTERS

O God, in whom we live and move, and have our being, grant us quenching, soaking rain, in due abundance. Please protect the firefighters and personnel responding to the fires. When they must go into the face of danger, be by their side in the smoke and flames. Through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

COMPANIONS IN SHIPWRECK

Good relationships are a vital part of human well-being. In fact, studies show that those with the healthiest relationships live the longest! But where can we see these friendships lived out? Look no further than the life of famed author J.R.R. Tolkien. The relationships he exhibited are a wonderful example for all of us to follow, especially with those we may disagree with. As Tolkien described marriage, it's all about being "companions in shipwreck."

A BIBLE STUDY ON THE LUMINOUS MYSTERIES: THE TRANSFIGURATION

This week we celebrate the feast of the Transfiguration, the mountaintop manifestation of Christ's glory that we read about in the Gospel. As we recall this wondrous event, however, many questions might come to mind. Why did Moses and Elijah appear? Why did Jesus only bring Peter, James, and John? Hear the answers to these questions and more in this episode of

LUMINOUS MYSTERIES

The Transfiguration is part of the Luminous Mysteries, which were introduced to the Church in 2002 by St. John Paul II. These mysteries recall events that demonstrate the light of Christ during his public ministry. On this feast day, let us ponder this miraculous episode of Jesus' life by praying along with this recording of the Rosary.

A gospel meditation for your home
August 1, 2021 – 18th Sunday in Ordinary Time
John 6:24-35

My wife and I were making our weekly visit to our local Safeway when I asked her, “How do they keep track of all this food? There must be thousands of different items on the shelves. And how can one choose amid such plenty?”

She quietly thought about this and gave me her answer. “Just focus on those items under ‘the manager’s special’ sign. That makes our picks easier. Also, we only need what’s on our shopping list. And stay out of the candy aisle.”

So goes our weekly adventure of food shopping. We need to eat but we must also be careful of what we eat. It must be healthy, and it must be on sale.

Today’s gospel is also about food. Jesus had recently fed about 5,000 hungry souls on the banks of Lake Galilee. They were given their fill and it seems that they wanted more. This posed a problem for Jesus because he did not simply want to be known as the free-food-guy. He was offering nourishment, not just for the body, but also for the soul. And nourishment that would remain life-giving forever. True soul food.

What he said to them was not easily understood. For instance, he said that he was offering them “the food that endures for eternal life,” a bread that was created in heaven – thus by God. And he concluded by saying that he was the bread of life.

All of this forced his listeners to look beyond the obvious, to really think deeply about what he was describing. As do we, who take his words seriously, and have been doing so to this present day.

Here’s how I think about this. This eternal bread referred to in this gospel is the person of Jesus himself. And Jesus is not only “in heaven” but also remains present among us here on earth. He dwells in many places, but especially in us. He is our nourishment. The one who enlivens us. The one who transforms our lives into a life that will last forever.

Our daily bread (think of the Our Father) is part of our lives, our thoughts, words and deeds that become part of the Body of Christ. This is God’s “Manager’s Special,” that we are offered. We do well to take advantage of that offer today.
