READINGS FOR THE THIRTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

NOVEMBER 14, 2021

1 Daniel 12:1-3 Hebrews 10: 11-14, 18 Mark 13: 24-32

PRACTICE OF HOPE

All of us are journeying through time together, even though we may live in different parts of the world. Most people experience the change of seasons. We know that eventually winter will arrive, followed by a slow transformation into spring. In the same way, each of us knows that we eventually pass from this worldly life to the next and that the aging process has seasons to discover and endure. Our faith in the life, death, and Resurrection of Jesus can be hopeful because we have his Word and God's promise of new life.

- Find some photographs of yourself when you were a child, then a teenager, and beyond. As you reflect on these images, think about all of the positive changes that have happened through the years; the occasions of new life that emerged in you over time.
- Journal about or ponder all the ways that the Holy Spirit works in your life today.
- Consider how God is thriving in the lives of your family members and friends.

At Home With the Word 2021

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT

Jesus points out to his disciples the poor widow who has just dropped two simple copper coins into the temple treasury. He then delivers a teaching on stewardship. Despite her poverty, the poor widow in today's Gospel does not refuse God her generosity. Out of her desperately impoverished life she contributes to an earthly institution to give God glory and praise. It is not the monetary value of the gift that was important, but the love, trust and gratitude expressed through the gift. The Gospel asks us similarly compelling stewardship questions: What do we value? In what or whom do we place our trust? How do our own contributions to our community of faith reflect our generosity toward God?

PSALMS OF PRAISE AND THANKSGIVING

The Thanksgiving holiday is an excellent time to rediscover the psalms of praise and thanksgiving.

When you find a quiet moment, sit and relax with your Bible. Think of a time when awe and gratitude overwhelmed you. Maybe it was a sunrise, or children playing in a park, an inspirational hymn at Mass, a family gathering, or a walk in the woods. Remember how you appreciated that special moment. Then, open your Bible to one of the psalms of thanksgiving and recite it to yourself. Take Psalm 118 for instance:

Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good; his love endures forever.

Listen to the words. Close your eyes. Let the psalm speak to you.

Other psalms of praise and thanksgiving you might consider include Psalms 92, 95, 98, 100, 103, 104, 105, 107, 111, 117, 145, and 147.

Whatever psalm you choose for that quiet moment, thank God for that special time of awe as well as all the good things in your life, and praise God for his glorious deeds.

FORMED NOW: CAN GOD HEAL HUMAN DIVISIONS?

A tragic consequence of sin is human division, something we all face in one way or another. In this video, Dr. Tim Gray and Dr. John Sehorn discuss how we can invite Christ into those situations of brokenness.

LISTEN

THE CONFESSIONS OF ST. AUGUSTINE

Actor Leonardo DiCaprio captures the poetry and passion of Saint Augustine of Hippo (AD 354-430) in a performance that is accessible and deeply moving. The play is astonishingly relevant for our own times. Augustine struggled with promiscuity, fathered a child out-of-wedlock and dabbled in a "new age" style cult. You'll be amazed by his relentless pursuit of Truth and encouraged by the prayerful perseverance of his faithful mother, Saint Monica.

A gospel meditation for your home
November 7th, 2021 – 32nd Sunday in Ordinary Time
Mark 12:38-44

We all live with a purpose. That purpose can change during our lives – sometimes almost daily. In today's gospel we are introduced to two types of people. The first are those who are in "high places." (They are called "scribes" meaning that they were on the payroll of the Temple.) They enjoy status and privilege and seemingly one primary purpose guides them: solidifying their own status and fulfilling their personal needs.

They live fully for themselves. They offer to God and God's work only their surplus, their leftovers. God plays no major role in their lives. They may try to appear holy, but they are not. I would classify them as "show-offs."

In contrast to them Jesus described a "poor widow." She occupies a class of persons with the least prestige in that society. She has no husband who would give her a feeling of importance and status. And she has no extra stash of money to buy her anything valuable. Apparently, she has a few coins, which she generously contributes to God's work. In other words, she lives not for herself, but generously for others.

She stands alongside other women in the gospels who are models of authentic holiness. Recall the woman at the well, the woman who anointed the body of Jesus before his death, the women who courageously stood at the foot of the cross and in today's gospel, "the poor widow" who gave her all for the enactment of God's purposes. And don't forget Mary, his mother.

We do well to wonder what happened to the role of women in the Church over all the centuries when the gospels were preached. It's worthwhile to ask if their presence and importance as women was adequately considered in the life of the Church.

The poor widow is not unlike many women over the centuries who were quietly dedicated to serving the needs of others. Mothers and grandmothers would be at the top of that list. How much are these women taken for granted, unacknowledged or not even noticed? Both in Church and in society? We certainly live at a time when their presence and importance is less overlooked than in earlier times. But still, is it valued enough? I don't think so.
