1 Daniel 7:13-14 Revelation 1:5-8 John 18:33b-37

PRACTICE OF FAITH

Jesus the Christ is celebrated as the true King in our celebration of Mass, but he did not reside in any castle or empire. Through God's gift of the Spirit, Jesus Christ rests inside each of us. Over this past liturgical year, we have heard many stories of Jesus' reign as the true servant leader who showed us how to live in simplicity and in connection with God. Jesus taught us how to pray and how to die to ourselves in the eternal hope of new life with our Creator. In this era of excess and publicity seeking, it is easy to forget that the strongest leaders serve others quietly.

- Consider the walls built in your neighborhood to keep out people whose presence might challenge you and your neighbors' way of life. Pray to understand what you can do to reach out to people and help your community serve the most vulnerable.
- Celebrate Jesus Christ as the king in your life by connecting with the Holy Spirit throughout the day.
- Ponder the image of king and determine your comfort level with this title given to Jesus.

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT

How would you spend your day if you knew it was the last day you would spend on earth? Undoubtedly, it would not be a normal day. The point of today's Gospel reading is that the end-time is always imminent. The good steward remains prayerfully alert, ready to give an accounting; and living each day in the awareness of the coming judgment and salvation.

How do we exercise stewardship over our daily lives? Are we prepared to give an accounting? How will we allow Christ to work in and through us to prepare for the reconciliation of the heavens and the earth?

ADVENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Chaplet of Divine Mercy will be prayed 20 minutes prior to Saturday and Sunday Mass

ST. GIUSEPPE MOSCATI: DOCTOR TO THE POOR

Giuseppe Moscati, "the holy physician of Naples," as a medical doctor and layman in the early twentieth century who came from an aristocratic family and devoted his medical career to serving the poor. His research also led to the discovery of insulin as a cure for diabetes. Moscati regarded his medical practice as a lay apostolate, a ministry to his suffering fellowmen. Before examining a patient or engaging in research, he would place himself in the presence of God. He encouraged his patients to receive the sacraments.

The Nazareth Page
A gospel meditation for your home
November 14th, 2021 – 33^d Sunday in Ordinary Time
Mark 13:24-32

Daylight is decreasing and we are beginning to think about the ending of this Year of the Lord, 2021. And what a year this has been! I will not go into details here because, besides global happenings, there are all the stresses and strains that each of us has undergone. Almost too many to count. On a personal note, my wife and I sold a larger home and acquired a smaller one. They call it “downsizing.” Our children no longer dwell with us but live on their own with their own challenges. My wife and I now see more of each other because we live in a smaller cave.

When today’s gospel was written, a popular format in religious circles were descriptions of what was called “the end time.” It had many similarities with today’s science fiction writing, films and video games. Lots of spectacular events season the story lines.

In biblical writings such imaginative happenings were used to highlight God’s involvement in terrestrial history . It’s important, however, to focus on God, and what God is doing, more than on the scenery being employed to make divine events all the more dramatic. Using the words of the gospel, God comes with angels “to gather” those God has chosen and bring them into eternal life with God. So, the gospel is not meant to scare us, but to provide us with a “view” of a hopeful and glorious future.

This is the primary message of our faith: God’s deep love for all those God created. For two-thousand years, Christians have debated whether God has chosen only some of us and rejected others. Michelangelo’s famous fresco, “The Last Judgment” places some of those depicted in heaven with God and others (interestingly, some of the artist’s enemies) with the devil in hell. Most of what he presented came from his vivid imagination and not from God’s revealed word.

So, what can we conclude from the gospel describing the end of time? First, this is a matter of God’s doing. Humans are not in charge, especially at the end. And God’s love is the most powerful force in all creation. God’s reason for creating, first of all, was to lovingly share life with God. God created no one as evil, although we are all capable of evil.

This account of the end of the world is included in the New Testament to give us hope, not to frighten us. It can also serve as a reminder that we are not alone in this magnificent story. We are invited to be hopeful that we will all one day enjoy life with God together.
