Our sacrificial gifts to the 2022 ACA help provide appropriate theological education and formation for our seminarians as well as continuing education/formation opportunities for our priests. Our prayers and generous contributions to the 2022 ACA are in response to our belief in God's call for us to be His disciples of peace, justice, faith, hope, and charity. Our priests teach us about Discipleship and journey with us as we discern our calling to prayer, ministry, and sacrifice.

PRACTICE OF FAITH

We entrust our lives to Christ and remain steadfast in faith despite whatever comes our way, be it devastating natural events, violence, or ridicule.

♥ For some, the delay of Christ's return became a spiritual challenge in itself. Do times of hardship strengthen or weaken your faith? Why do you think you respond this way? How might these difficult times help you see and connect with God in new ways?

♥ In our second reading, St. Paul urges people not to get so caught up in expectations about the world ending that they neglect their work. What task have you been putting off? Complete this work today as an offering to the Lord. At Home With the Word 2022

EXTRAORDINARY MINISTER TRAINING

Bishop Vetter has decided to reinstate the offering of communion under both forms beginning with the First Sunday of Advent (November 26-27). The chalice may be offered for all Solemnities (including, of course, Sundays and their vigils) beginning with the Vigil of the First Sunday of Advent (November 26).

This will allow time for proper training of the Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion. Only Ordinary Ministers of Communion (Priests and Deacons), are to purify the Sacred Vessels and that Extraordinary Ministers are only to be used if there are no Ordinary Ministers.

Since each communicant has the option to receive the Precious Blood or not, I do not expect everyone to return to the chalice right away, and therefore it may be unnecessary to have as many stations for the Precious Blood as previously. However, the option can foster a deeper devotion to the Body and Blood of Christ and indeed is a stronger sign of His laying down His life for us. Further, this option allows for some who are unable to receive our Lord in the Host to receive Him from the Chalice. Anyone who is currently an Extraordinary Minister or who would like to become one, there will be a training session after Mass on Saturday, November 19 and Sunday, November 20, 2022.

WE ARE IN NEED OF ALTAR SERVERS

We are looking for Junior Servers - 4th Grade through Eighth Grade and Senior Servers - High School Freshmen or older.

All Boys and girls/Men and Women are welcome. There will be a list for signup on the desk outside the Office. I am scheduling training for after Mass on the Weekend of December 3 and 4th.

The Nazareth Page
A gospel meditation for your home
November 6, 2022 – 32nd Sunday in Ordinary Time
Luke 20:27-38

As my years here on Earth accumulate, my thoughts about what comes next seem to increase. With each passing day, I know that I move closer to my own death. Of course, that countdown has been going on for over eight decades. Still, my interest in what comes next is stronger today than ever before.

As a person of faith, I carry a hopeful faith rooted in the resurrection of Jesus. I remain strong in believing that I (along with others) will not cease living, but will enter a new kind of existence, one rooted in God's life-giving love. Details of that life remain, to put it simply, unknown.

In today's gospel Jesus is asked by a group who believed in the existence of life after death, but for a particular reason. It had to do with their practice of having the unmarried brother of a deceased husband, marry the widow. Perhaps out of a concern that the family name be continued. So, they asked Jesus: who will be married to her in the afterlife? Jesus' answer is brief. He simply affirms that God absolutely favours life. End of conversation.

But that's no small affirmation. There are those who think that once we die, it's all over. An absolute end of personal existence. While there is no empirical evidence that they are right or wrong, when believing in an afterlife, we must admit that this is a step into the unknown. It is based on faith not in our own power, but in God's absolute power to offer life without end.

So, what will that existence be like? No one knows, although over the years, many have offered possibilities, some quite fanciful. With our current understanding of the cosmos, enjoying some kind of life on the clouds can be ruled out. But is heaven a specific place? Will we meet others there with whom we once shared life? Will I greet my mom and dad? Or my grandparents, some of whom died before I was even born? I hope so.

As I think and pray about all this, I grow in wonder and speculation. I am amazed at all that we are learning (and seeing) in our Universe, especially through the "eyes" of the James Webb Space Telescope. But I also recall Jesus saying that no eyes have seen what awaits us. I suspect it will be utterly amazing. Way beyond anything we can even imagine.
